

How to Write a Poem

*Sink hands into surge of words.
Fish this one out, then that.
Toss many back. Try fresh.
Turn each on end or rightside up or hindside to
Until all seem, to you, to fit.
Let fall and walk away.*

*Someday someone just may
Pass by and find her eye
Caught by this odd
New object.*
